

The Fun Palace 017: Christine Gaspar

AUGUST 18, 2017

Download file | Play in new window | Duration: 34:58

Christine Gaspar is the Executive Director of CUP, The Center for Urban Pedagogy based out of New York City. In this interview we learn about Christine’s beginnings in environmental studies and how this led her to take a keen interest in policy. She sees potential for wonderful creativity in policy which is what she helps cultivate at CUP where her team is creating a new visual language for policy. She is a champion for equity and social justice and believes that everyone deserves to know their rights. Their work is inspiring and necessary. This conversation took place in CUP’s headquarters in Brooklyn. We hope you enjoy it!

Click here to learn more about CUP.

EXPLORE MORE PODCASTS

More Stories

LEAP Dialogues: The Educator's Guide
SEPTEMBER 27, 2017

Education

Essential Reads for Designers Fighting Inequality
SEPTEMBER 25, 2017

Justice/Equity

Cradle to Cradle Product Design Challenge
SEPTEMBER 22, 2017

Built Environment Competition

ANNOUNCEMENT

Software donations

Nonprofits using design to create a better world can apply for software donations through the Autodesk Technology Impact program.

Go there now

Sign Up For Our Weekly Newsletter

SUBSCRIBE

Leave a Reply

POST COMMENT

More Stories About Community Development

Many Pieces; One Purpose – Community Mural Project Event on September 15
SEPTEMBER 12, 2017

Built Environment Community Develop...

SocEntCity Social Enterprise Ecosystem Report
AUGUST 23, 2017

Business Community Develop...

Interview with Former NEA Director of Design and Creative Placemaking Jason Schupbach
AUGUST 16, 2017

Community Develop...

Brought to you by:

Connect with us

Subscribe

Get the latest news, articles and jobs delivered straight to your inbox weekly.

SUBSCRIBE